TWIN DISC CELEBRATES 50 YEARS IN OCEANIA

Twin Disc, leader in marine and industrial transmission technologies, celebrates 50 years in Australia, New Zealand and the South Pacific. The company established Twin Disc (Pacific) Pty Ltd (TWINPAC) in 1966, triggering its global expansion to 250 distributor sales and service locations in 83 countries worldwide.

During its first 15 years of operation, TWINPAC focused on land-based industrial applications and axle manufacturing. In the 1980s the subsidiary began to leverage the burgeoning commercial and recreational marine markets within the region. Its success led Twin Disc to expand into Asia with an office in Singapore.

Today, TWINPAC markets and distributes the complete line of Twin Disc marine and land-based power transmission products. While global markets have evolved, the subsidiary's core values of quality, integrity and responsive customer service continue to be its strong foundation.

For nearly 100 years, Twin Disc has brought innovative marine and land-based industrial technology to the marketplace. Its products are renowned for their quality, reliability and long service lives.
